THE HISTORIC BARNs OF SOUTHEASTERN PENNSYLVANIA

Architecture & Preservation, Built 1750-1900

Gregory D Huber

For anyone who has ever admired a barn on an old country lane, this is the story of that barn and many others in South-eastern Pennsylvania, or, specifically "the hearth", the area east of the Susquehanna River and South of the Blue Mountains. One of the earliest-settled areas in North America, this region of the Keystone State, which includes Lehigh, Bucks, and Lancaster Counties, is home to an astounding 20,000 standing barns, in various states of repair, built from the early 1800s on. Discussed in this text are the primary factors that have determined the fundamental structures and appearances of the six great barn classifications, including forest resources. Other featured topics are architectural aspects and regionalisms, dates of construction, survival of 18th-century examples, mysterious decorations, and barn preservation. Completing this treatise are representative colour photographs, building plan sketches, charts conveying the prevalence of types, and a glossary of barn terms.

ASSEMBLY REQUIRED

How to Hyperscale Your Sales, Dominate the Competition, & Become the Market Leader

Donald Scherer

Only one company can lead, prosper, and win in any technology market. Will it be yours? The marketplace leader, or Marketplace Gorilla, will win fifty percent of the revenue and seventy-five percent of the profits in a given space. Every new enterprise hopes to reach this status, but the majority will eventually fail usually due to their sales methods. Whether you employ direct or inside sales approaches, neither methodology will allow your sales team to acquire enough customers to dominate the market. Author Donald Scherer makes it clear out of the gate why traditional sales methods will simply not work for most technology companies. He then provides step-by-step instructions on how you can HYPERSCALE your technology sales operations by building high-velocity sales assembly lines based on those used by modern manufacturers. This powerful method of force projection will serve to propel your company to Marketplace Gorilla status without the need for enormous institutional funding. Scherer's techniques are based on the experiences of CrossBorder Solutions, an unfunded, undercapitalised software company that was sold to Thomson Reuters for a home-run valuation. Employing these techniques accords your company the potential to mass-produce sales while lowering costs combination that leads to profitable growth. Scherer is the CEO and cofounder of AssemblySales.com and the former CEO of CrossBorder Solutions.

LIGHTS, CAMERA, GAME OVER!

How Video Game Movies Get Made

Luke Owen & Paul W S Anderson

Since 1993, Hollywood has been rendering popular video games on the silver screen, mainly to critical derision and box office failure. While a few have succeeded, many have been hailed as the "worst movie ever" and left gamers asking: how did that get made? Super Mario fans expecting plumbers jumping on Goombas got an inter-dimensional battle between humans and evolved dinosaurs. Players expecting to see Ryu, Ken, and the rest of the World Warriors compete in the Street Fighter Tournament instead got a live-action GI Joe movie. This in-depth and entertaining work recounts the production histories of many of these movies, revealing the sometimes inspired and convoluted path Hollywood took to turn pixels into living flesh, with insights from over 40 industry insiders, including film directors Paul W S Anderson (Resident Evil), Simon West (Tomb Raider), and Steven de Souza (Street Fighter).

FROM THE PLATFORM 2

More NYC Subway Graffiti, 1983-1989

Paul Cavalieri, Kenny Cavalieri. Foreword by Henry Chalfant

This is a nostalgic, visual account of the best time and place to be a graffiti writer. In the 1980s, brothers Kenny, a.k.a. KEY, and Paul, a.k.a. CAVS, immersed themselves in the graffiti scene in the Boogie Down Bronx, dutifully photographing hundreds of pieces on now-discontinued MTA subway cars and capturing their proud comrades before, during, and after the act. "Bombing" "White Elephants" with their pilot markers and documenting them with their cameras, which they always carried, they were on the ride of their lives -- until 1989, when the last painted train was removed from service. Tags by names like QUIK, IZTHEWIZ, and many others appear here in colour exposures, and dozens of artists share stories and drop knowledge with no filter. A foreword by graffiti historian Henry Chalfant, co-producer of Style Wars -- the seminal documentary on New York graffiti and hip-hop culture - - kicks things off.

AGING DISGRACEFULLY

A Memoir

Danny Cahill

Does it count as a midlife crisis if you screw up your life and you happen to be entering middle age, or did you screw up your life because you are entering middle age? And does it matter if you take the kind of life most people envy wealth and success and recognition and blow it up, hurting everyone you love along the way? Who does that?! Danny Cahill had made it, by any measure: He was a recruiting industry icon with a brilliant, lucrative career, hugely in demand as a motivational speaker, and a noted playwright and writer. But once a serious gym injury began to unravel his childhood deprivations, his mother's shame-based modus operandi, and the choices he made in search of love, he realised he had thrown it all away in spectacular fashion. In this book Cahill takes on the emotionally tricky territory of memoir and charges into deep water to tell a frequently humorous and wonderfully dark tale that spares no one in his life, least of all himself. Painfully authentic and unapologetic, Cahill's account reveals that no matter how the world rewards you for being at the top of your game, an unresolved past can follow you, shape your choices, and lead to comic and tragic results when lines are crossed. Cahill's story is ultimately about climbing out of messes, saving ourselves from ourselves, finding exactly what we've been looking for, and realising that it was there all along.

YOUR AGING BODY CAN TALK

Using Muscle-Testing to Learn What Your Body Knows & Needs After 50

Susan L Levy, DC

Distinguished chiropractor and alternative health practitioner Dr Susan Levy has over 30 years of experience in promoting the well-being of body, mind and spirit. This book applies her work to an aging population (50+). Uniquely, this material is presented through the lens of Clinical Kinesiology, a simple self-help tool of muscle-testing that allows readers to find out what their own body knows and needs. They learn that the body “speaks” through either strong or weak muscle responses to questions asked or situations presented, and are instructed in how to do this simple self-testing for a variety of health issues. Stories of other seniors who have used this methodology to their benefit provide a platform for acceptance and motivation, and each chapter contains specific recommendations for its use. Far from being a scholarly or scientific text, This book is written for immediate use by maturing practitioners or laypersons. Throughout the book, the concerns of an aging population are consistently placed in the forefront: How to develop an anti-inflammation diet and lifestyle; Factors that affect longevity; How to build cognitive health and brain vibrancy; How to find or refine your life’s purpose, no matter what your age. Why detoxification is so essential, at any age.

HIGH SIERRA

The Range of Light

Fred Weyman

The Sierra Nevada Mountains, which many consider the most beautiful range in the world, don't easily reveal their treasures, but this photographic compilation, the result of over 30 backpacking trips in the remote high country, reveals the spirit and beauty of a national gem through brilliant images. Focusing on carefully selected landscapes captured from virtually impossible vantage points, the photographs reflect a genuine Sierra backcountry experience. Witness the disappearing edges between water and rocks at Lake Aloha, the scant vegetation peeking out between slabs of smooth granite in Cherry Creek Canyon, and read about the natural processes that led to the creation of waterfalls, glaciers, and lakes. The painstakingly crafted compositions demonstrate how light can determine the way one sees and remembers a landscape. Musings about the Sierra Nevada by naturalists, mountaineers, and writers, including John Muir, Norman Clyde, Jane Wilson Howarth, and Jack Kerouac, complement the arresting photography.

STORYBOOK STYLE

America's Whimsical Homes of the 1920s

Arrol Gellner & Douglas Keister

Storybook style, fairy tale, Disneyesque, Hansel and Gretel -- these are all synonyms for what is surely the most delightful residential style of the twentieth century. With their romantic evocation of faraway lands and eras, storybook homes were created by architects and builders with a flair for theatre, a love of fine craftsmanship, and above all a sense of humour -- attributes that make them especially endearing to the jaded modern eye. The storybook style was born on the backlots of Hollywood in the 1920s, where brilliant set designers first learned to evoke the exotic architecture of medieval Europe and the Middle East. Movie-going Americans became fascinated with these settings, and architects and builders were quick to capitalise on this enthusiasm. The whimsical style soon spread from coast to coast, and the unforgettable results are portrayed here.

THE 6TH WAFFEN-SS GEBIRGS (MOUNTAIN) DIVISION "NORD"

An Illustrated History

Massimiliano Afiero

This book is the complete history of the 6th SS Gebirgs (Mountain) Division "Nord" in World War II. Formed in 1941, "Nord" was employed along the Finnish–Lapland front against battle-tested Soviet forces from 1941-44. Following the signing of the armistice between Finland and the Soviet Union in the summer of 1944, the division was moved to the western front. "Nord" units took part in Operation "Nordwind," the final German offensive on the western front in late December 1944, where they fought against American units for the first time. Tough defensive fighting along the Moselle and Rhine fronts followed up to the armistice in May 1945. The units of the division fought to the last, always with courage and valour, distinguishing itself as one of the best German units employed on the western front. Detailed operational history, rare combat images, maps, and personality profiles make this book the definitive history of "Nord".

THE WORLD WAR II RAID ON PLOESTI

William R Bradle

In 1943, the Allied forces were grasping for anything to undercut Hitler's power and relieve his relentless pressure on the Red Army. The US Army Air Force planned Operation Tidal Wave, which would take off from Benghazi, Libya, fly low and maintain complete radio silence to escape Axis observation, and bomb Hitler's vital oil fields in Ploesti, Romania. On 1 August, 178 B-24 bombers prepared to take off. Fifty-three would never return -- the Germans knew they were coming. Operation Tidal Wave was a massive tactical defeat. However, it proved the mettle of the USAAF and provided a rallying point for the public. William R Bradle offers the definitive account of this doomed operation and takes readers into the thick of the action with thrilling accounts from many of the crews.

HUDSON VALLEY REFLECTIONS

Illustrated Travel & Field Guide

Michael Adamovic

Discover the natural and architectural wonders that abound along New York's Hudson River Valley in this lavishly illustrated travel and field guide. The unique scenery, fauna and wildlife, and architecture of the valley, from Sleepy Hollow near New York City north to the town of Catskill, are showcased through 150 colour photos. Brief essays relate the majesty of the four seasons in the valley, its waterfalls, bogs, people, history, and more. Whether it's learning about the recovery of bald eagles or the region's rare orchids, taking a tour through a historic Gilded-Age mansion, or rambling to the top of a legendary mountain said to be the abode of mischievous imps, it will be hard, if not impossible, to avoid falling "under the sway of some witching power" that Washington Irving believed pervades this remarkable land. Includes a map with 40 locations worth visiting and driving directions.
