COMMANDING EXCELLENCE

Inspiring Purpose, Passion & Ingenuity through Leadership that Matters

Gary Morton

Truly engaging people is not about commanding them to do something; it is about getting them to command themselves to do it. West Point distinguished graduate Gary Morton knows how to deliver exceptional results while doing just that. As a platoon leader and tank commander in Army Task Force 4-68 and, later, as a young vice president at medical device manufacturer Stryker, Morton learned under two legendary leaders who, despite different styles, followed nearly the same steps to achieve results most considered unattainable. In only a year, Task Force 4-68's commander, Lt Colonel Alfred L Dibella, turned one of the Army's poorest performing units into the most lethal, combat-ready task force in the US Army. In simulated-combat missions at the grueling National Training Center, Dibella's task force defeated the constantly triumphant OPFOR in every battle. A feat never repeated. Generals and commanders at every level sought to understand how this unit did the impossible. When John W Brown became CEO of Stryker, it was a boutique medical device firm with a few innovative products and $17 million in sales. Under Brown's extraordinary leadership it evolved into a $4 billion market leader feared by competitors and highly regarded by healthcare professionals. Stryker accomplished this remarkable run by securing 20-percent earnings growth every quarter, every year -- for twenty-eight years. Again, a feat experts believed unachievable. By explaining the ingredients of these two leaders' secret sauce, Morton lays the foundation for current and future leaders to ensure their own teams excellence.

FUSION LEADERSHIP

Unleashing a Movement of Monday Morning Enthusiasts

Dudley R Slater & Steven T Taylor

Seventy percent of US workers hate their jobs and don't want to show up on Monday morning. The majority of the nation's workforce hates their job, cites Dudley Slater in this book. Employees find little value in their work and dread coming in on Monday. The author believes that some of the reasons for this phenomenon can be laid at the door of leaders: When their selfish actions diminish the effectiveness of their teams, they commit the ultimate failure in leadership. Slater combines the powerful stories of eight prominent leaders with the story of his own journey toward becoming the leader he is and aspires to be. Together, the wisdom and experience of Slater and the other leaders illuminate the goals of Fusion Leadership -- to create a motivated workforce committed to its members and to ignite a common passion that provides individuals with self-fulfillment, and the organisation with increased success. When leaders reward the collective ego over the selfish ego, their organisations not only make greater progress, but they fulfill the universal human desire to find meaning in work. When the author co-founded and was CEO of Integra Telecom, Inc he attributed the company's success to his employees, and he began to research leaders whose companies defied national norms and surveys. His research led to the creation of the concepts of Fusion Leadership. Slater generates hope and optimism that when leaders practice these concepts, they can start a movement that will extend well beyond their workplace to society as a whole.

THE UNSPOKEN CODE

A Businesswoman's No-Nonsense Guide to Making It In the Corporate World

Marja L Norris

Achieving success as a professional woman does not have to be hard! With over 30 years of experience rising through the ranks of the male-dominated world of finance, author Marja Norris knows all too well the challenges females continue to encounter in today's business culture. Over the decades, she has learned how to expertly navigate the rules and expectations of the workplace, many of which remain unclear, unspoken, or unstated to females trying to make their mark. In the book Norris equips young professional women with the tools they need to succeed by shining a spotlight on the subtle, sometimes controversial, norms they face as soon as they set foot in an office. The book contains no-nonsense advice to help women climb the corporate ladder with confidence, as well as valuable insights from successful businesswomen reflecting on their own journeys to the top. The three sections guide readers towards their professional goals by awakening their own power within, perfecting both verbal and nonverbal communication skills in aggressive business environments, and showing the significance of how their dress impacts future career opportunities. Today's business culture is shifting towards equality, but it's not shifting fast enough. The book empowers women to push through barriers with moxie and gives them confidence to achieve their professional dreams.

THE ESSENTIAL THYROID COOKBOOK

Over 100 Nourishing Recipes for Thriving with Hypothyroidism & Hashimoto's

Lisa Markley & Jill Grunewald

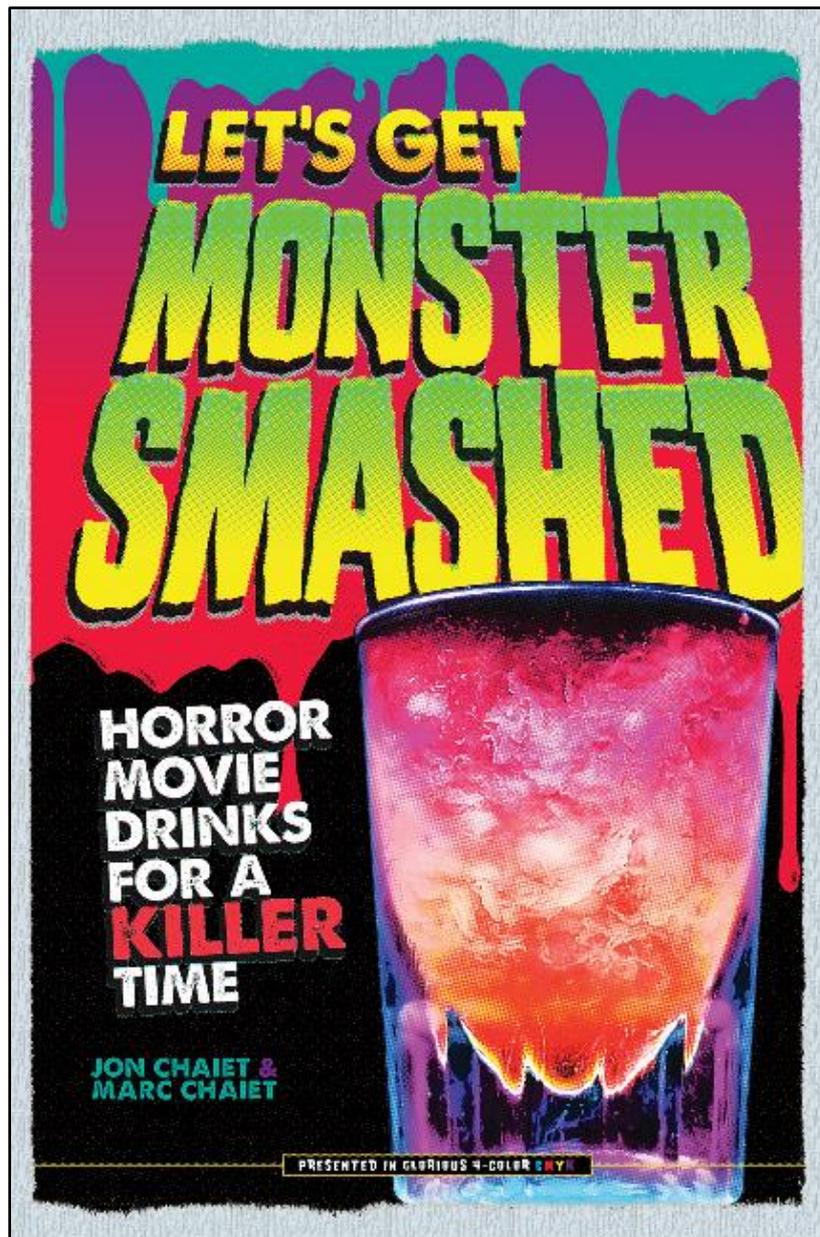

This is a book within a cookbook -- it contains a substantive educational component as well as over 100 original "food as medicine" recipes that provide you with maximum nourishment for your thyroid and immune system. Hashimoto's is one of the most common autoimmune diseases and thyroid problems are among the most prevalent yet overlooked conditions that compromise women's health today. (Additionally, men are being diagnosed in increasing numbers.) Lisa and Jill have experienced the challenges of Hashimoto's first-hand through their own diagnoses and they have discovered that the most impactful way to reduce symptoms and improve thyroid and immune health -- for themselves as well as their clients -- is to focus on the sound nutrition strategies outlined in this book. The authors took a rigorous academic approach to this cookbook. In preparation for the choices of ingredients, Jill and Lisa created a nutritional "springboard" that is the foundation for their recipes. They extensively researched the most supportive nutrients for the thyroid and immune system and then identified foods that are dense sources of these nutrients. Each recipe or recipe combination had to contain at least 5 supportive nutrients to "make the cut". Unfortunately, many people are deficient in the nutrients required to maintain and restore healthy thyroid function. These nutrients laid the groundwork for this cookbook. Additionally, the recipes: Emphasise nutrient-dense, whole food ingredients full of colour and flavour; Are free of gluten, dairy, refined sugars, and other highly processed ingredients; Are targeted to the home cook and easy to prepare; many can be made in 30 minutes or less; Are thoughtfully created to appeal to all palates; Contain sensible adaptations, whenever possible, to fit dietary practices commonly used to address thyroid imbalances and autoimmunity. This book will support you for a lifetime of peak thyroid function no matter where you currently are on your wellness journey.

Horror Movie Drinks for a Killer Time

Jon Chalet & Marc Chalet

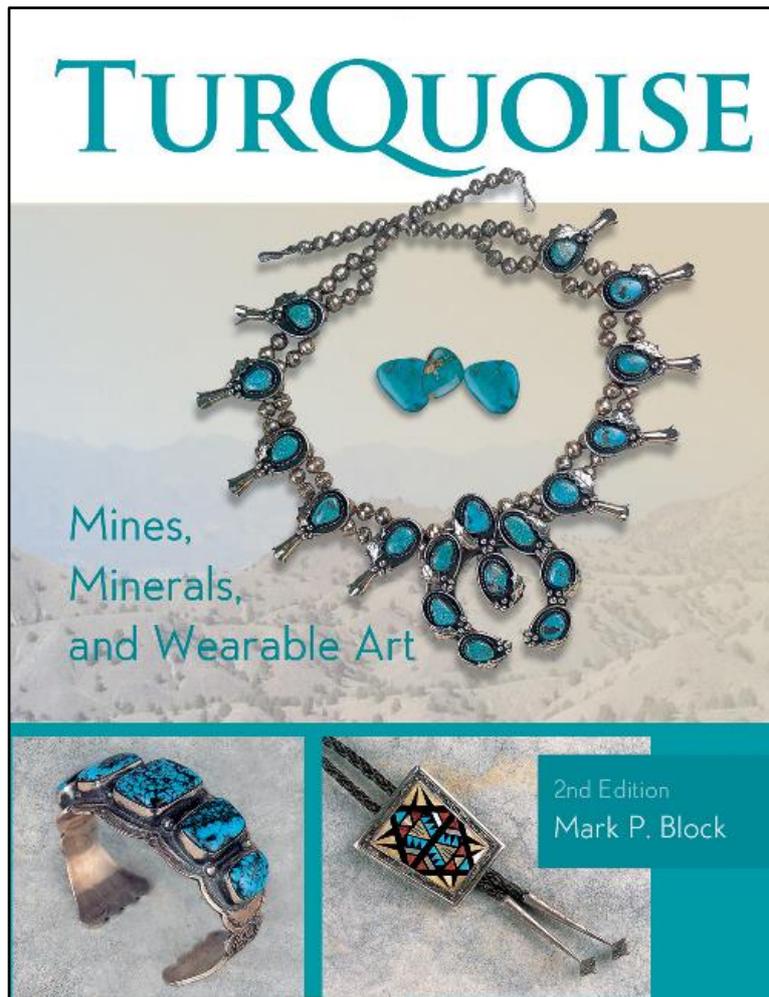

A horror movie inspired cocktail book with gross-looking but delicious party drinks, all wrapped up in an awesome '80s VHS package. There are 55 recipes spread across 5 chapters (shots, gelatin, punches, special fx, and non-alcoholic) inspired by classic pulp horror movies of the '80s and '90s, complete with viewing recommendations. The movies may be weird, the drinks may look gross, but the elevated drink making techniques and unusually tasty recipes keep readers and their guests interested and coming back for more. Great for theme parties, Halloween festivals, movie fans, and retro enthusiasts.

TURQUOISE MINES, MINERALS, & WEARABLE ART

2nd Edition

Mark P Block

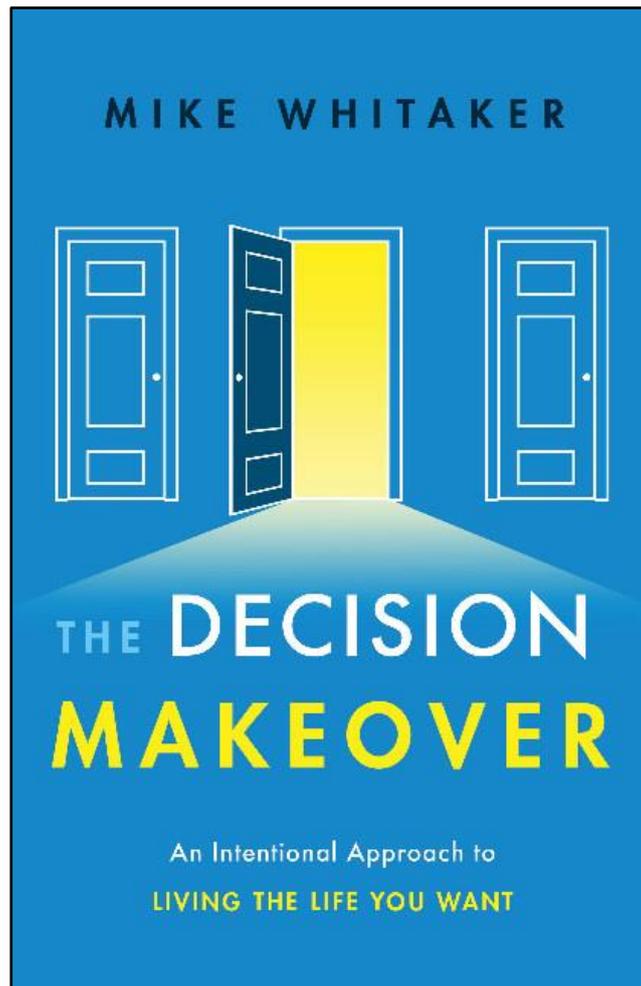

Explore the fascinating history and contemporary influence of turquoise as a gemstone of choice for collectors, artists, and jewellery wearers. Immerse yourself in its history from ancient times to the present, and the influence of Native American artists in making this gemstone an enduring part of popular culture in America. Illustrated with over 500 colour photos, this updated second edition includes nearly 150 photos never seen before. It shows turquoise from Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, and Nevada, plus Australia, China, and Iran, and the major localities in between. The gems appear in their natural state, cut, polished, and set into silver and gold jewellery. Extensive text details the gems' values and the many mines that have relinquished turquoise over thousands of years.

THE DECISION MAKEOVER

An Intentional Approach to Living the Life You Want

Mike Whitaker

Personal success feels good, yet wanting it is not enough. Why doesn't everyone achieve their goals? The people in your life and throughout the world who are successful have a secret advantage that is carefully explained in this book: Successful people consistently make good decisions. A lifetime of good decisions creates happiness, while bad decisions create broken hearts, dead-end careers, bad marriages, lower income, financial ruin, or worse. Many people spend years making bad choices without consciously knowing why or even when they made them. The results are often much less than we desire. It is time for a critical makeover. In this book Mike Whitaker unlocks a new language of decision making, giving readers greater control over their lives. Readers learn concepts such as "Decision Zones", "Regret Inventory", "Failing Fast", "Goal Grooming", "Prime Goals" and the "Success Formula Waterfall". This is an easily digestible text, with interactive exercises for readers to develop self-awareness for goal-oriented decision making. For young people just beginning to make important life decisions to those who have seen it all and are ready for a "reset", this timeless book is a must-have tool for anyone wanting to achieve the maximum success possible through purposeful decision-making.

THE USAF WEAPONS SCHOOL AT NELLIS AIR FORCE BASE, NEVADA

Don Logan

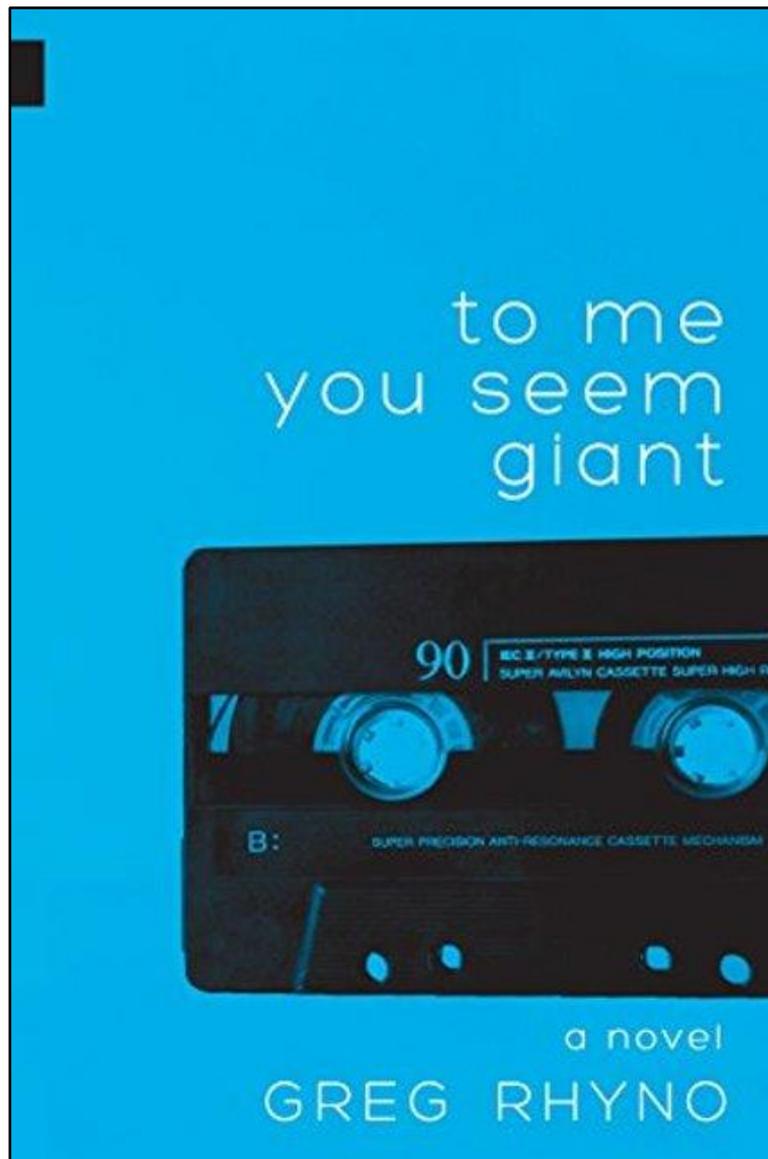

This pictorial history of the USAF Weapons School based at Nellis AFB, Nevada, features over 200 colour images of the aircraft flown by the eighteen squadrons of the Weapons School from 1992 to the present. The aircraft photos are organised by Weapons School squadron with a short history of each squadron, as well as unit insignia. A majority of the photographic images were taken by the author during numerous visits to Nellis AFB, and the other bases hosting Weapons School units. Most of the action photos were taken on the Nellis range, the Nellis ramp and runways, or in flight. Also included are chapters on the history of the Weapons School predecessor, the Fighter Weapons School, from 1949 to 1992, with photos of the fighter aircraft assigned to its squadrons. The F-16 and F-15 aircraft of the 57th Adversary Tactics Group (Aggressors) are also included.

TO ME YOU SEEM GIANT

Greg Rhyno

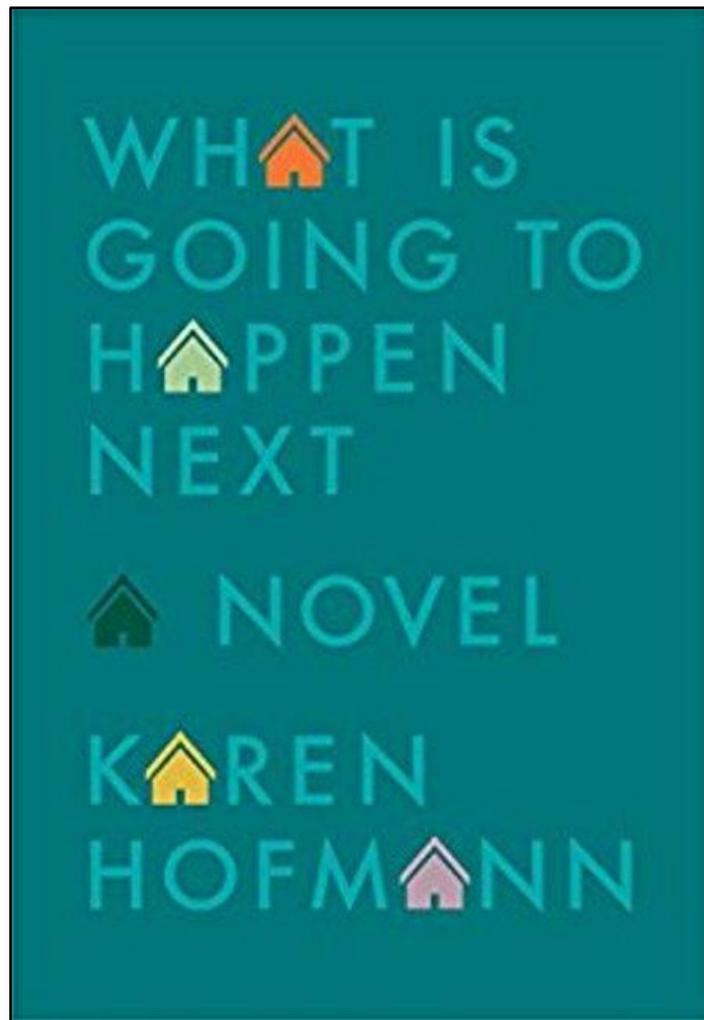

It's 1994 and Pete Curtis can't wait to get out of Thunder Bay, Ontario. Already, he is playing drums in a band whose songs belong on mix-tapes everywhere. Even though his new girlfriend seems underwhelmed, he knows it is just a matter of time before he and his pals break big. Ten years later, Pete is stuck teaching high school in the hometown he longed to escape, while his former best friend and bandmate is a bona fide rock star. In his debut novel, with its compelling hook and realistically flawed characters, Greg Rhyno remembers the time signatures of mid-nineties. Told in two alternating decades, this is a raucous and evocative story about the difficulties of living in the present when you can't escape your past.

WHAT IS GOING TO HAPPEN NEXT

Karen Hofmann

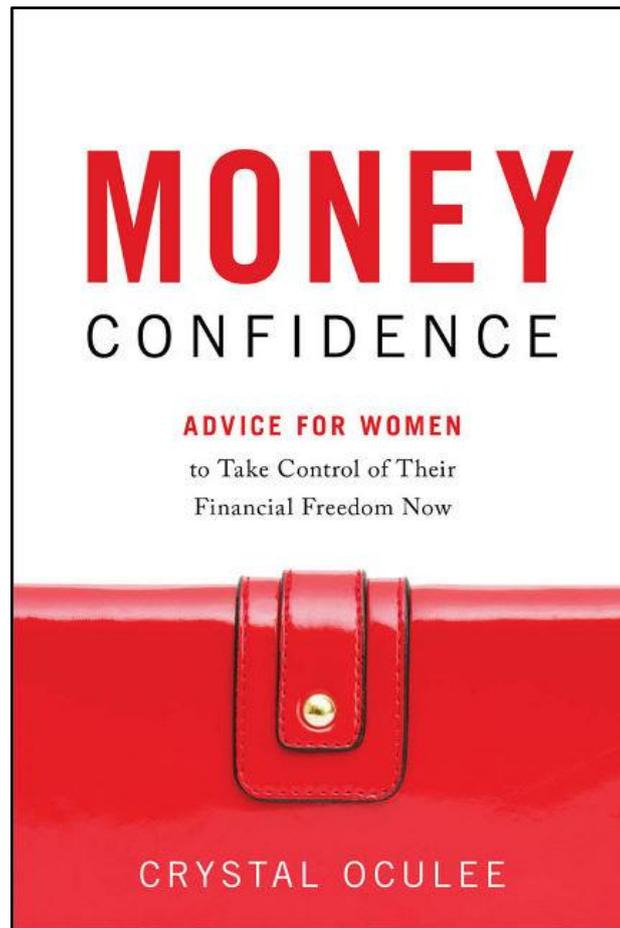

Karen Hofmann's empathetic and cathartic novel pieces together the lives of five members of the Lund family following their enforced dispersal after the death of the father and the hospitalisation of the mother in the remote West Coast community of Butterfly Lake. It explores their self-doubts and aspirations in the ways they cope with their separation and reunion through their work and personal relationships, and reveals the ways in which their past is filtered through memory and desire. It also skillfully exposes a Vancouver class system from the perspectives of diverse socio-economic conditions and lifestyles. The book is character-driven and well-wrought, with a tenderness that propels the reader forward alongside the Lunds who are learning to fuse together as a chosen family.

MONEY CONFIDENCE

Advice for Women to Take Control of Their Financial Freedom Now

Crystal Oculee

Have you, like many women, put off organising your financial life? You know you want independence, you know you want to save, and you know you want a solid retirement. But if you are overwhelmed at the thought of where and how to begin, you are not alone. You may have been raised to defer to others in matters of money, or you may feel you simply lack the understanding of how to take on financial matters. Without the confidence they need, it's easy for women to find themselves in a situation where the only action they feel they can take is hoping that everything will turn out all right in the end. But planning for the future does not have to be this way. The book's authoritative and engaging reality check and call to action for women of all ages to take -- or regain -- control of their financial lives. The author shows why hope is not a financial strategy, and how, with the tools and information she provides, women can attain the independence, savings, and secure retirement they want. She cleverly employs metaphors from familiar fairy tales to illuminate and accentuate the book's serious message: Women need to toughen up; and they can and need to identify and overcome myths and mind-sets that place them at a disadvantage when it comes to dealing with their money and finding and working with financial advisors. Oculee shows women how to communicate, be strong, ask questions, and reject advisors who do not take them seriously. Real-life scenarios of various women's experiences with money and advisors prove how women can get the confidence they need once they know what is holding them back.

TOWARD TRUTH, FREEDOM, FITNESS & DECENCY

Mark W Bitz

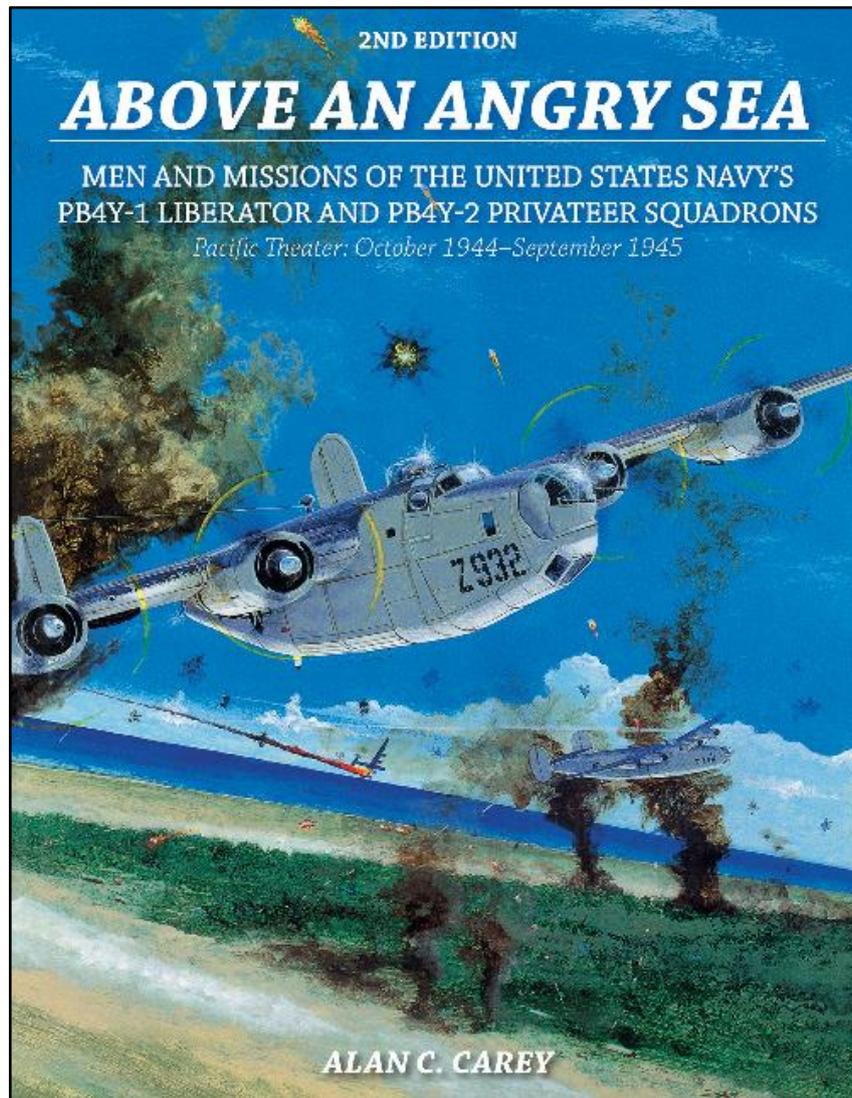

Why does the US stagnate? What perspectives and practices optimise our wellbeing? What Causes Some Populations to Flourish and Others to Fade? How do we bridge our cultural divide? Author Mark W Bitz has been thinking about these questions for over forty years. The answers to them have been millions of years in the making. They come from the evolution of life, the human condition, our Judeo-Christian heritage, scientific findings, the American experiment, and numerous cultures. They involve certain perspectives and practices and their prevalence within populations. Bitz has found the answers to these questions in the one thousand books that he has read and the fifty states and over forty countries that he has visited. He expertly illustrates where we have lost our way so that we can rediscover the winning path. This is a compelling, thought-provoking look at the forces that shape our public policies and our culture.

ABOVE AN ANGRY SEA

United States Navy B-24 Liberator & PB4Y-2 Privateer Operations in the Pacific: October 1944 -- September 1945

Alan C Carey

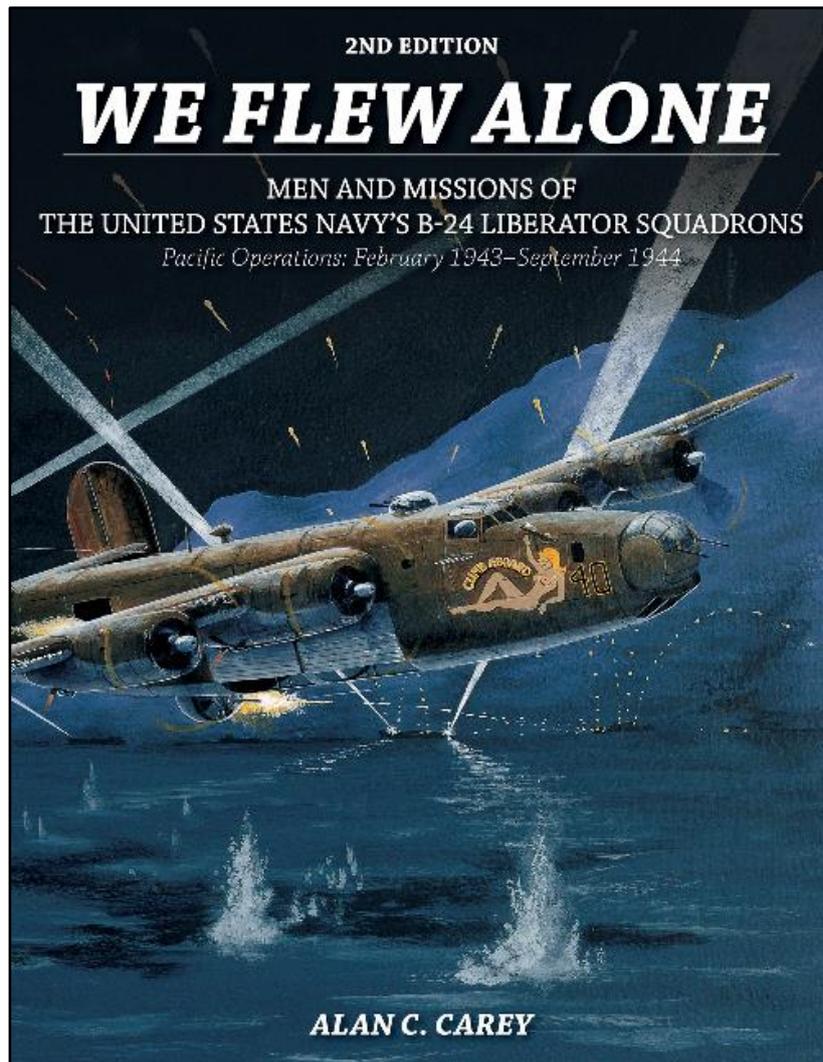

This book chronicles USN B-24 Liberator (PB4Y-1) and PB4Y-2 Privateer operations in the Pacific. The author's previous book, "We Flew Alone" discussed the Navy's use of the B-24 Liberator from February 1943 to September 1944. He now examines in dramatic detail the use of the B-24 and PB4Y-2 during the last eleven months of the war against Japan. The author has collected personal stories, over 200 photographs, a tabulation of all aerial kills credited to PB4Y patrol plane commanders, a roster of all personnel killed in action or in the line of duty, individual squadron records, and a list of all known B-24 Liberators and PB4Y-2 Privateers assigned to the Pacific between 1943 and 1945.

WE FLEW ALONE

Men & Missions of the United States Navy's B-24 Liberator Squadrons Pacific Operations: February 1943–September 1944 (2nd Edition)

Alan C Carey

This revised and expanded second edition covers USN and USMC squadrons that operated the Consolidated B-24 Liberator heavy bomber as the PB4Y-1 in the Pacific from early 1943 through September 1944 in the Central Pacific. Combat air crews consisted of eleven young men typically ages 18 to 26 led by a patrol plane commander in his early to mid-twenties. They flew alone on single-plane patrols often lasting ten or more hours. Alone on patrol there were no witnesses when an aircraft failed to return to base; they simply vanished, leaving little if any clues about their fate. Other aircrews sent to look for the missing would occasionally spot a deflated life raft floating or dye marker spreading across the water -- evidence marking where a four-engine bomber and its crew had gone down.

NAVAJO WEAVINGS WITH CEREMONIAL THEMES

A Historical Overview of a Secular Art Form

Rebecca M Valette & Jean-Paul Valette

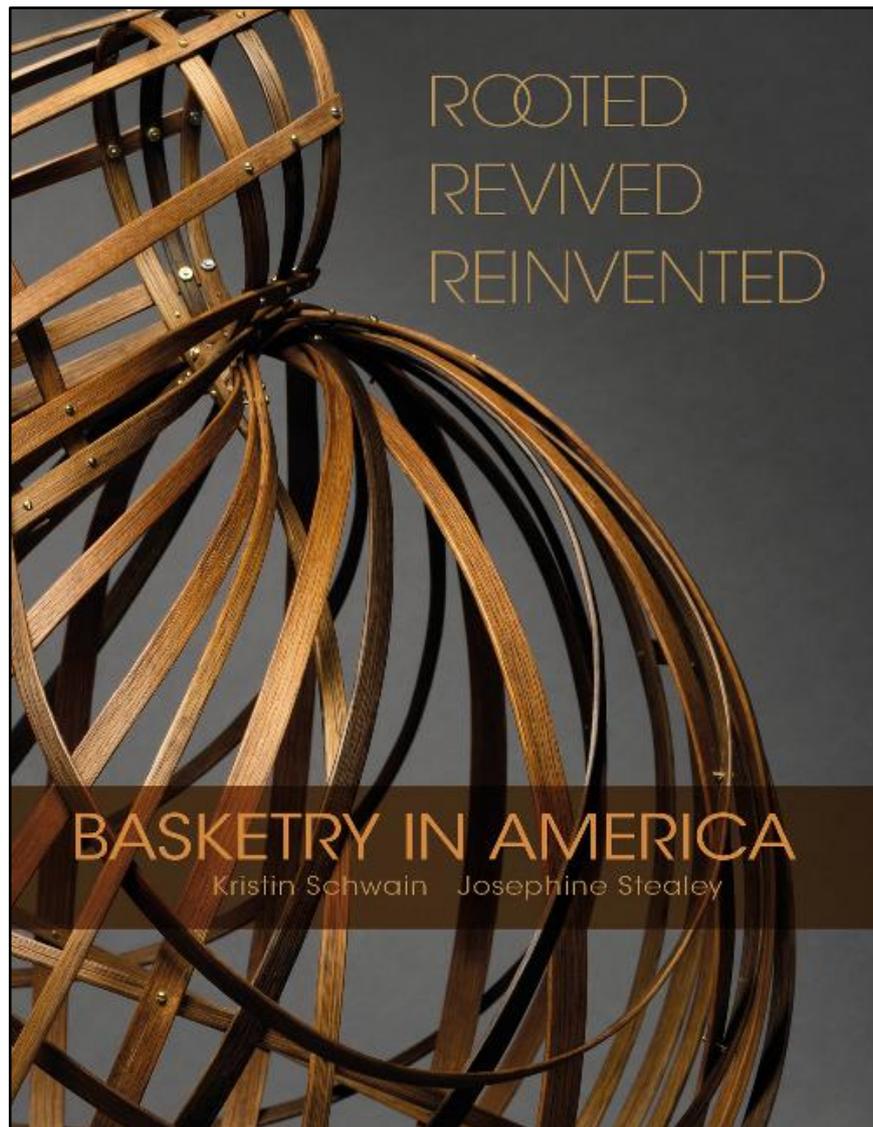

Featuring over 500 photographs and maps, this is the first comprehensive, research-based history of Navajo weavings with imagery inspired by tribal sacred practices. These Yei, Yeibichai, and sandpainting textiles have been the most sought after by collectors and the least studied by scholars. In spite of their iconography, they never served a ceremonial function. They were created by Navajo women at the instigation of Anglo traders, for sale to wealthy collectors willing to pay premium prices for their perceived spiritual symbolism. This book describes the historical and artistic development of the genre from its controversial emergence around 1900, to the 1920-1940 period of intense creativity, and concluding with the contemporary search for innovative patterns. Never-before-published weavings, detailed annotations, and an extensive bibliography make this an invaluable reference for scholars and collectors, and a fascinating exploration for all who are interested in the Southwest and its native cultures.

ROOTED, REVIVED, REINVENTED

Basketry in America

Kristin Schwain & Josephine Stealey

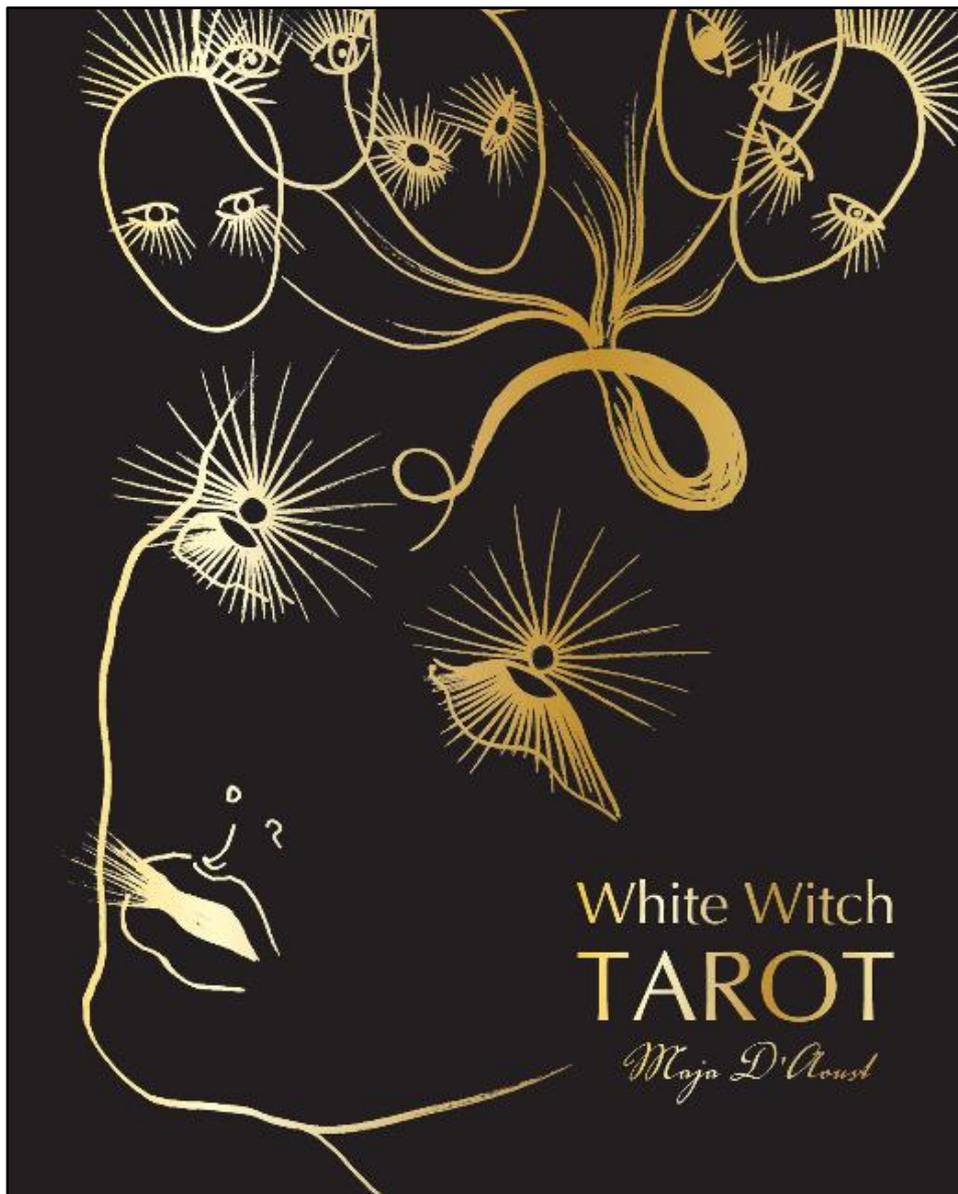

This book unfolds a history of American basketry, from its origins in Native American, immigrant, and slave communities to its contemporary presence in the fine art world. Ten contributing authors from different areas of expertise, plus over 250 photographs, insightfully show how baskets convey meaning through the artists' selection of materials; the techniques they use; and the colours, designs, patterns, and textures they employ. Accompanying a museum exhibition of the same name, the book illustrates how the processes of industrialisation changed the audiences, materials, and uses for basketry. It also surveys the visual landscape of basketry today; while some contemporary artists seek to maintain and revive traditions practiced for centuries, others combine age-old techniques with non-traditional materials to generate cultural commentary. This comprehensive treasury will be of vital interest to artists, collectors, curators, and historians of American basketry, textiles, and sculpture.

HAVANA FOREVER

A Pictorial & Cultural History of an Unforgettable City (2nd Edition)

Kenneth Treister, Felipe J Prestamo & Raul B Garcia

Havana has always been a dynamic city, and its unique architecture makes it one of the most beautiful cities in the world. Until recently, the closed nature of contemporary Cuban society has frozen and preserved much of Havana's urban design and simultaneously prevented many visitors from experiencing its wide range of architectural influences, which cross-reference to create a stunning, unified "work of art". In this documentary-style history of old Havana, readers are invited to tour the city's buildings alongside its culture, people, plazas and parks, pedestrian environment, monuments, food, music, dance, colonial history, and iconic traditions, from cigars to the Tropicana Supper Club. Learn why Havana has the classic order, neighbourhood balance, architectural elegance, and pedestrian harmony that urban planners long for, and discover the ways in which it is not just a city but a celebration of the Cuban way of life and its Creole roots.
